GENERAL INFORMATION

➤ What information is presented in this report?

Statistics on the gender, racial, and ethnic composition of the appointed membership of 189 state boards, commissions, committees and councils.

➤ What is the source of the data?

Reports filed with the Office of the Secretary of the State in the fall of 2005, under the provisions of Section 4-9b of the Connecticut General Statutes (CGS).

➤ What are the major requirements of CGS Section 4-9b?

- That appointing authorities for certain state boards, commissions, committees and councils consider gender and race when making their appointments.
- That the chairpersons of those boards and commissions biennially submit reports, to the Secretary of the State, documenting the gender and racial composition of their appointed membership.<sup>1</sup>
- That the Secretary of the State receive and maintain the reports as public records.

➤ When did state boards and commissions begin to report diversity data to the Secretary of the State?

The first Gender and Racial Composition reports filed under the provisions of CGS Section 4-9b were received in the fall of 1993. This document presents the data obtained during the 2005 reporting period.

➤ What state boards and commissions are included in this statistical report?

The statistical report includes those boards and commissions that filed gender and racial composition biennial reports for 2005, and that have at least one member appointed by the Governor, or by a member of the General Assembly.<sup>2</sup>

➤ What do the reporting bodies do?

The functions performed by the reporting boards and commissions vary greatly. For example: some license and regulate members of various professions and occupations; some administer state and federal funds or programs in areas such as the arts, education, environmental protection, and social services; some have quasi-judicial and policy-making responsibilities; some provide advisory assistance to state agencies; still others are created to author one-time reports on specific problems or issues of interest to state government.

2005 GENDER AND RACIAL COMPOSITION REPORT

This report presents the data received from the gender and racial composition reports of 189 state boards, commissions, committees and councils, submitted to the Office of the Secretary of the State in the fall of 2005, in accordance with section 4-9b of the Connecticut General Statutes (CGS).<sup>1</sup>

This data provides a time-sensitive view of the gender and racial composition of the appointed membership of the reporting bodies, a “snapshot” of their composition at the time their reports were filed. The appointed membership of some bodies may have since changed through resignations, new appointments, or the filling of vacancies.

The individual appointed membership size of the 189 reporting boards and commissions ranged from one to 43 (vacancies and alternates excluded), and the aggregate appointed membership numbered 1,859. In addition to appointed members, there were 259 ex-officio members (or their designees) serving on the reporting bodies.<sup>2</sup>

The data presented below is for the appointed membership of the reporting bodies—the membership specifically covered by the provisions of CGS Section 4-9b. CGS Section 4-9b does not include ex-officio membership positions in its diversity provisions.

A table listing the responses of the reporting bodies is included in Appendix B.

Notation regarding race reporting categories: The figures, tables and narrative below use the “race/sex” group terminology prescribed by CGS Section 4-9b for use in reporting the gender and racial composition of state board and commission appointees. The categories are prescribed by the affirmative action regulations of the state’s Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities (CHRO). The eight CHRO race/sex categories are: white male, white female, black male, black female, Hispanic male, Hispanic female, other male, and other female.

It should be noted that calling these groupings “race/sex” categories is a misnomer. The categories Hispanic male and Hispanic female relate to ethnicity, not to race. Persons of Hispanic origin can, and do, identify themselves as belonging to the racial categories white, black, or those encompassed by the term “other.” Because the required “race/sex” categories do <sup>1</sup> See Appendix A for the text of CGS 4-9b. In August 2005, report forms were mailed to 251 state boards, commissions, committees and councils identified by the office of the secretary of the state as likely candidates for filing gender and racial composition reports. Reminder forms were mailed November 17, 2005, to those entities that had not responded. As of December 30, 2005, 206 appointive bodies filed reports. Seventeen indicated that they were no longer in existence, were not required to file, were currently inactive and had no appointed members, or had not yet been organized. Those seventeen, therefore, are not included in the data presented here. No reports were received from forty-five.

<sup>2</sup> The term “ex-officio” means “by virtue of office.” An ex-officio member of a reporting body is a member who serves on it by virtue of an office he/she holds, and not because he/she was specifically appointed to the body by an appointing authority, (such as the Governor or a member of the General Assembly). Ex-officio members can be either voting or nonvoting members of a body. They are often able to designate a person to serve in their place, either on occasion or on a regular basis. For reporting purposes, designees of ex-officio members regularly serving in place of an ex-officio member are counted as ex-officio members.

not enable persons of Hispanic origin to be reported both in the Hispanic origin category and in one of the three race categories—white, black and other—they, in effect, treat Hispanic origin as if it were a race category. Therefore, notes have been added to the category labels in order to clarify the data presented.

The tables and figures that follow compare the reported data to population estimates for the nearest corresponding U.S. Census categories. For example: the reporting category “white (not Hispanic)” is compared to the U.S. Census category “White alone (Not of Hispanic or Latino Origin);” “black (not Hispanic)” is compared to “Black or African American alone (Not of Hispanic or Latino Origin);” “Hispanic (of any race)” is compared to “Total (Hispanic or Latino Origin);” and “other (not Hispanic)” corresponds to the aggregate of the following U.S. Census categories for persons not of Hispanic or Latino Origin: “American Indian and Alaskan Native alone;” “Asian alone;” “Native Hawaiian and Other Pacific Islander alone;” and persons of two or more races.

Part 1: COMPOSITION OF AGGREGATE APPOINTED MEMBERSHIP

One way to review diversity on the 189 state boards, commissions, committees and councils that reported in 2005, is to compare the composition of the aggregate appointed membership of the bodies to state population statistics.

Gender

In terms of representation of women in the aggregate appointed membership of the reporting bodies, there was 1.3 percentage point increase from 2003 to 2005. Women continued to be underrepresented in 2005, in comparison to their estimated numbers in the state's general population. Figure 1 below shows the data for 2005 and 2003 in comparison to U.S. Census Bureau population estimates for Connecticut for the year 2004.<sup>3</sup>

Race/Ethnicity

There was no increase in the percentage representation of minority groups in the aggregate appointed membership of reporting bodies between 2003 and 2005. As in 2003, members of minority groups were underrepresented, in comparison to general population estimates, in the aggregate appointed membership of the boards and commissions that reported in 2005. Figure 2 below summarizes this information.

<sup>3</sup> Population estimates are as of July 1, 2004 and are taken from "Table 3: Annual Estimates of the Population by Sex, Race and Hispanic or Latino Origin for Connecticut: April 1, 2000 to July 1, 2004 (SC-EST2004-03-09)." Source: Population Division, U.S. Census Bureau. Release Date: August 11, 2005. While the Census Bureau released new population estimates (for July 1, 2005) on December 22, 2005, those estimates are for total population only. The Census Bureau will not release population estimates for 2005 that include details on race, sex, and Hispanic/Latino origin until the summer of 2006.

Race/Ethnicity By Gender

Between 2003 and 2005, there was little change in representation among the eight race/ethnicity/gender groups in the aggregate appointed membership of the reporting boards and commissions. The reported representation of white males decreased by 1.2 percentage points. Representation of white females increased 1.8 points. Percentage representation for all non-white race/ethnicity/gender groups either decreased slightly or remained virtually identical to 2003. Figure 3 on the next page summarizes this information.

Membership by Race/Sex Category

Part 2: COMPOSITION OF APPOINTED MEMBERSHIP ON INDIVIDUAL REPORTING BODIES

Reviewing the composition of the aggregate appointed membership of the reporting boards and commissions provides one way to review the diversity of appointees on those bodies. Reviewing the composition of the appointed membership on individual reporting boards and commissions, as will be discussed below, also provides information regarding diversity and change.

Gender Composition of Individual Appointed Memberships

According to U.S. Census estimates, Connecticut's population is approximately 48.5% male and 51.5% female.

Women were not represented at all in the appointed membership of 14.8% (28) of the reporting bodies in 2005. In 2003, 20.4% of reporting bodies had no female appointed members. Women were represented in the appointed membership of 85.2% of reporting bodies in 2005, in comparison to 79.6% in 2003. There was also an increase in reporting bodies on which women were represented at a level essentially equal to their representation in the general population. In 2005, women comprised at least fifty percent of the appointed membership of 58 of 189, or 30.7%, of the reporting bodies. In 2003, the percentage was 26.9%. This data is summarized in Table 1 below.

WOMEN	41 (20.4%)	160 (79.6 %)	54 (26.9%)

Racial and Ethnic Composition of Individual Appointed Memberships

Four of the boards and commissions that reported in 2005 had at least one appointed member from each of the race/ethnicity reporting categories. There was a 4.1 point decrease (from 2003) in the percentage of reporting bodies comprised of appointed members from a single racial/ethnicity group, and 4.1 point increase in the percentage of reporting bodies having appointed members from three or four racial/ethnicity groups. Table 2 below summarizes this information.

4	4	2.1%	3	1.5%

As in past years, non-Hispanic whites were represented in the appointed membership of virtually all boards and commissions that reported in 2005. Non-Hispanic blacks were represented on a somewhat higher percentage of the reporting bodies in 2005 in comparison to 2003, (34% compared to 31%). There was a greater percentage point increase for Hispanic members, who were represented in the appointed membership of 22% of reporting bodies in 2005 in comparison to 16% in 2003.<sup>4</sup> Table 3 below summarizes this data.

Race/Ethnicity/Gender Category Composition of Individual Appointed Memberships

In 2005, as in 2003, more than half of the reporting boards and commissions had appointed members from two or fewer race/ethnicity/gender groups. Specifically, 64.7% of reporting bodies in 2003 had appointed members from two or fewer of the eight race/ethnicity/sex reporting categories; in 2005 that percentage decreased to 60.4%. Table 4 below summarizes this information.

<sup>4</sup> This may seem to contradict the information presented earlier, which indicated no change in the percentage representation of Hispanic/Latino appointees serving in the aggregate appointed membership. However, the statistic discussed here pertains to representation on individual reporting bodies. Essentially, the difference in the two measurements indicates that while, in terms of the total number of appointed members serving on all the boards and commissions that reported in 2005, there was no increase in the number of Hispanic/Latino appointees in 2005, those appointees were serving on a wider range of boards and commissions in 2005 than in 2003.

The distribution of appointed members from the eight race/ethnicity/sex reporting categories changed somewhat from 2003 to 2005. The largest percentage increases in representation on individual boards and commissions in 2005 were reported for white females and Hispanic females. The largest percentage decrease in representation was reported for non-Hispanic black females. Table 5 below presents this data.

Part 3: HISTORICAL CHANGE

It is possible to compare the gender and racial composition of the aggregate appointed membership of reporting boards and commissions from 1999 to 2005.<sup>5</sup>

The comparison data is summarized in tables 6, 7 and 8.<sup>6</sup> One apparently consistent trend over the last four reporting periods is the increased representation of women, particularly white and, to a lesser degree, Hispanic women, in the aggregate appointed membership of the reporting boards and commissions. Another is the gradually decreasing representation of white men.

Gender Composition

Table 6

Gender Composition of Aggregate Appointed Membership
Year	Men	Women
1999	65.7%	34.3%
2001	65.5%	34.5%
2003	64.7%	35.5%
2005	63.4%	36.6%

<sup>5</sup> Report forms used prior to 1999 did not distinguish between appointed and ex-officio membership positions. Ex-officio membership positions are not included in the diversity provisions of CGS 4-9b.

<sup>6</sup> Statistics for 1999 through 2005 are from the gender and racial composition reports submitted by boards and commissions to the Office of the Secretary of the State.

APPENDIX A

From the Connecticut General Statutes, Revised to January 1, 2005, as amended by Public Act 05-288

Sec. 4-9b. Membership of boards, commissions, committees and councils: Qualifications, gender and racial diversity required considerations. Report. Right of action. (a) Appointing authorities, in cooperation with one another, shall make a good faith effort to ensure that, to the extent possible, the membership, except the ex-officio membership, of each state appointive board, commission, committee and council having members appointed by the Governor or appointed by members of the General Assembly is qualified and closely reflects the gender and racial diversity of the state. If there are multiple appointing authorities for a board, commission, committee or council, the appointing authorities shall inform each other of their appointees or planned appointees in order to facilitate compliance with this section.

(b) The executive officer or chairperson of each state appointive board, commission, committee and council having members appointed by the Governor or appointed by members of the General Assembly, except committees whose membership consists solely of members of the General Assembly, shall report in writing to the Secretary of the State on or after September first, but not later than October 1, 1993, and biennially thereafter, (1) the number of members of such body and (2) the composition of the body according to the term "race/sex", as defined in the regulations of the Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities. Such report shall not include the names of the individual members of the board, commission, committee or council. The Secretary of the State shall receive and maintain the reports submitted pursuant to this subsection as public records.

(c) No provision of this section shall (1) prohibit an individual from completing a term as a member of a state appointive board, commission, committee or council being served on July 2, 1993, or (2) create a private right of action.

Enabling Authority Text

An “enabling authority” is a state or federal law that creates a board or commission. The text of the law will generally include information on the number of board or commission members, required qualifications for members, and appointing authorities. The laws creating most of the boards and commissions listed in this table can be found on the Internet, as described below.

Text of the Connecticut General Statutes (CGS), the Connecticut Public Acts (PA) from 1988 to date, and the Connecticut Special Acts (SA) from 1988 to date are available on the web site of the Connecticut General Assembly at <http://www.cga.ct.gov/>

Executive Orders of Governor Rell are available on the Governor’s web site at <http://www.ct.gov/governorrell/>

Executive Orders of Governor Rowland are available on the Governor’s archived web site at <http://www.ct.gov/governorrowland/>

U.S. Congress House Resolutions (HR) are available through the Library of Congress web site at <http://thomas.loc.gov/>

The United States Code (USC) can be accessed through the U.S. Government Printing Office web site at <http://www.access.gpo.gov/uscode/uscmmain.html>

The United States Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) is available through the U.S. Government Printing Office web site at <http://www.gpoaccess.gov/cfr/index.html>

* Abbreviations for “Enabling Authority” column are as follows: CFR = Code of Federal Regulations; CGS = Connecticut General Statutes; Exec. Order = Executive Order of the Governor; HR = House Resolution (U.S. Congress); PA = Public Act of the Connecticut General Assembly; SA = Special Act of the Connecticut General Assembly; USC = United States Code.
